AIRMEN, BREAKING WORLD RECORD IN CROSS-CONTINENT FLIGHT, NOW PLAN ROUND THE WORLD JOURNEY

20 Years From First Flight of Airplane to 26 Hour Journey From New York to San Diego Illustrative of Remarkable Progress Made in Aviation Development

San Diego, Calif., May 4.—Some 20 years ago at Kittyhawk field, North Carolina, a crowd of curious spectators stood around a strange machine known as an airship and with accord declared. "That thing will never leave the ground."

But it did. Under the guidance of Orville Wright the contrivance rose falteringly and spent a few minutes in the air, groaning and creaking.

Today in a hangar at Rockwell field, near here, there stands a lineal descendant of that "contraption" which only day before yesterday stood in a hangar at Hempstead, New York 2,625 miles away, having traversed the continent in the air under its own power and without a stop in 26 hours 10 minutes and 48.25 seconds.

The men who flew the machine from New York are Lieutenants, Oakley E. Kelley and John MacReady, who between them already hold seven aviation records for speed, duration of flight and weight taken into the air on a single air plane.

The men thought little of their accomplishment and almost as soon as they landed were making plans for attempting to establish a new record for duration of flight in an attempt to fly around the world.

Both the aviators were in good physical condition when they landed. Except from a few splutterings of oil from the Liberty engine that brought them a greater distance than any persons have ever flown before in one continuous flight they appeared as fresh on landing as if they had taken by an hour's jaunt.

"When we left New York," said Kelley, "we could not seem to get the full horsepower out of the Liberty engine. We flew for more than 20 miles at an altitude of less than 100 feet."

Make Repairs in Air. "Over New Jersey the voltage regulator went out. This was heartbreaking for, unless we could repair it in flight, we would be forced to turn back. While I handled the control wheel, MacReady set desperate-ly to work taking off the switch and installing a new one."

He succeeded and a loud whirr came from the engine when the regulator again began to function properly.

MacReady took over the story: "From that moment the flight became a pleasant prospect for us and we encountered no further mechanical trouble. The Liberty motor we kept operating at ninety percent of its full horsepower after we had cleared the New Jersey air lines."

Reaching Dayton, Ohio, 560 miles from New York, we headed for St. Louis, thence steered for Tucuman, N. M. We were flying at an altitude of 2,000 feet when darkness caught us near Indianapolis.

"Approximately 50 miles from Belleville, Ill., we were thrilled by the sight of a huge beam of light projecting up through the clouds. It was a veritable beacon along a rocky and dangerous shore, to us, for otherwise intense darkness prevailed and we were trusting solely to our compass to keep on a straight course."

Aided by this beam of light, which we knew came from Belleville, we continued straight as an arrow for the Missouri river. A light rain began to fall when we crossed the Missouri line, a condition we were prepared for on account of the cloudy weather in Indiana and Illinois. At the Missouri-Kansas line, while traveling better than 110 miles an hour and at an altitude of 5,000 feet, we sighted moonlight filtering through cloud holes. It gave us a feeling of security."

"There, faint streaks of moonlight were all that we sighted of the heavens until daybreak over Tucuman. Kelley was at the wheel. Dawn was just breaking. Kelley gave a shout of joy when on looking over the side of the cockpit he spied the cemetery on the outskirts of Tucuman. It was a landmark we knew."

At Wheel 6 Hours at Time. From that time on the aviators had not the slightest difficulty. They were flying in daylight over a section they knew well from their previous flight and the plane, lightened of much of its early burden of fuel, did all that was asked of it in climbing over the mountain ranges. They considered that part of the trip so easy that they barely commented on it.

MacReady and Kelley said that they exchanged positions at the wheel every six hours except while crossing over the Arizona forests. They then changed frequently, partly to rest and partly to arrange their schedule so that MacReady would handle the controls in making the landing here.

WEAVER PLEASED. New York, May 4.—"We are jubilant over the success of Lieutenants MacReady and Kelley," Major Weaver said, "principally because they arrived safely. The fact they have established a new non-stop flight record for heavier than air machines comes secondary. Their take-off here was extremely dangerous and difficult."

He reviewed a parade Tuesday from a window of his Kremlin apartment, the paper says.

SHORT SKETCH OF WATER COMPANY GIVEN IN ARTICLE BY CITY ENGINEER ATKINSON

Editor's Note:

This is the first of a series of articles by City Engineer Atkinson upon the issues involved in the bond election to provide an adequate water supply for Bismarck. The Tribune is giving space to the city commissioner to present their side to the voters.

By T. R. Atkinson
City Engineer

To the Taxpayers and Citizens of the City of Bismarck, North Dakota:—The President and several members of the Board of City Commissioners feeling that there is a lack of complete information concerning the various questions at issue in the controversy between the City and the Bismarck Water Supply Company have requested me as City Engineer to present to you briefly the history of the case to date as well as the plan for a proposed new system on which bids are to be received on May 28th, 1923.

The original system was owned by the Bismarck Water Company and was constructed in 1886 and 1887. It consisted of a pumping plant about one-fourth mile up the river from the present pumping plant. Two field stone reservoirs were constructed at that time and a twelve inch supply main from the reservoirs to the city and six miles of six inch pipe was laid for the distribution system. This original system when constructed cost about $84,000 went into the hands of a receiver and was reorganized as the present Bismarck Water Supply Company under the laws of West Virginia, in 1898. The original system being purchased by the present company for $67,250. Alexander McKenzies and his associates took over the present system soon after its reorganization in 1898 and immediately thereafter issued $100,000 in bonds, and $67,250 in stock. In 1906 and 1907, the company constructed a new pumping plant and one new concrete reservoir, and from that date to 1915 increased their distribution system so that the entire length including the twelve inch supply mains from the reservoir is 12.7 miles. No extensions have been laid since 1915 except for 219 feet of six inch main laid to the swimming pool in 1921. In 1917 the company increased their capital stock to $150,000, retired the $100,000 of bonds and made a new bond issue of $50,000. The franchise of the company was extended in 1916, and a contract entered into whereby the company was to furnish the city with adequate fire pressure and a supply of pure water. Early in 1919 a large number of taxpayers and water users being convinced that the company was neither furnishing adequate fire protection nor pure water and that its charges were excessive, brought proceedings before the Board of Railroad Commissioners to compel the company to give the fire service and the pure water supply guaranteed by their contract and to have the rates reduced.

We are now paying for water that was formerly 50 cents per one thousand gallons, 67-1/2 cents, and for hydrant rental that was formerly $75 per year, $101.25 per year. This litigation has cost the company approximately $27,000, which it claims must eventually be paid by the consumers of water. The cost to the city has been $13,500. Included in the cost to the city is $2,000 paid for plans and $466 paid for 4.66 acres of land for a filtration site at the river and a reservoir site on the hill just east of the present site of the company's reservoirs. The valuation placed on the plant of the Company by the City Engineer, is approximately $225,000. The valuation placed by the company's engineers is approximately $600,000. The valuation placed by the Board of Railroad Commissioners on December 30th, 1922 is $290,000.

In 1920, the Board of City Commissioners believing that it would be for the best interest of the city to own and operate its own plant and immediately thereafter issued $100,000 in bonds, and $67,250 in stock. In 1906 and 1907, the company constructed a new pumping plant and one new concrete reservoir, and from that date to 1915 increased their distribution system so that the entire length including the twelve inch supply mains from the reservoir is 12.7 miles. No extensions have been laid since 1915 except for 219 feet of six inch main laid to the swimming pool in 1921. In 1917 the company increased their capital stock to $150,000, retired the $100,000 of bonds and made a new bond issue of $50,000. The franchise of the company was extended in 1916, and a contract entered into whereby the company was to furnish the city with adequate fire pressure and a supply of pure water. Early in 1919 a large number of taxpayers and water users being convinced that the company was neither furnishing adequate fire protection nor pure water and that its charges were excessive, brought proceedings before the Board of Railroad Commissioners to compel the company to give the fire service and the pure water supply guaranteed by their contract and to have the rates reduced.

In Bismarck any firm or individual who owns a piece of art or knows where an original painting, statue or other piece is located is asked to give information to Mrs. E. B. Cox of 302 West Thayer Street who is local chairman of the art division.

Miss Palmer states that the first complete report to be made has come from Mrs. F. E. Ployhar of Valley City who has located seven original portrait tablets by Paul Fjelde and another report locates an original landscape by George Innes, Sr. in the home of Horace Clark of Wheatland.

"This survey which is being made in North Dakota will undoubtedly do much to dissuade people of the idea that North Dakota has no art and that its people are not interested in art," said Miss Palmer.

AIRMEN, BREAKING WORLD RECORD IN CROSS-CONTINENT FLIGHT, NOW PLAN ROUND THE WORLD JOURNEY

20 Years From First Flight of Airplane to 26 Hour Journey From New York to San Diego Illustrative of Remarkable Progress Made in Aviation Development

San Diego, Calif., May 4.—Some 20 years ago at Kittyhawk field, North Carolina, a crowd of curious spectators stood around a strange machine known as an airship and with accord declared: "That thing will never leave the ground."

But it did. Under the guidance of Orville Wright the contrivance rose falteringly and spent a few minutes in the air, groaning and creaking.

Today in a hangar at Rockwell field, near here, there stands a lineal descendant of that "contraption" which only day before yesterday stood in a hangar at Hempstead, New York 2,625 miles away, having traversed the continent in the air under its own power and without a stop in 26 hours 10 minutes and 48.25 seconds.

The men who flew the machine from New York are Lieut. Oakley E. Kelley and John MacReady, who between them already hold seven aviation records for speed, duration of flight and weight taken into the air on a single air plane.

The men thought little of their accomplishment and almost as soon as they landed were making plans for attempting to establish a new record for duration of flight in an attempt to fly around the world.

Both the aviators were in good physical condition when they landed. Except from a few splutterings of oil from the Liberty engine that brought them a greater distance than any persons have ever flown before in one continuous flight they appeared as fresh on landing as if they had taken by an hour's jaunt.

"When we left New York," said Kelley, "we could not seem to get the full horsepower out of the Liberty engine. We flew for more than 20 miles at an altitude of less than 400 feet."

"Make Repairs in Air"
"Over New Jersey the voltage regulator went out. This was heart-breaking for, unless we could repair it in flight, we would be forced to turn back. While I handled the control wheel, MacReady set desperately to work taking off the switch and installing a new one."

"He succeeded and a load was lifted from our hearts when the regulator again began to function properly."

MacReady took up the story: "From that moment the flight became a pleasant prospect for us and we encountered no further mechanical trouble. The Liberty motor we kept operating at ninety percent of its full horsepower after we had cleared the New Jersey air lines."

"Reaching Dayton, Ohio, 560 miles airline from New York, we headed for St. Louis, thence steered for Tucuman, N. M. We were flying at an altitude of 2,000 feet when darkness caught us near Indianapolis."

"Approximately 50 miles from Belleville, Ill., we were thrilled by the sight of a huge beam of light projecting up through the clouds."

It was a veritable beacon along a rocky and dangerous shore to us, for otherwise intense darkness prevailed and we were trusting solely to our compass to keep on a straight course."

Aided by this beam of light, which we knew came from Belleville, we continued straight as an arrow for the Missouri river. A light rain began to fall when we crossed the Missouri line, a condition we were prepared for on account of the cloudy weather in Indiana and Illinois. At the Missouri-Kansas line, while traveling better than 110 miles an hour and at an altitude of 5,000 feet, we sighted moonlight filtering through cloud holes. It gave us a feeling of security."

"These faint streaks of moonlight were all that we sighted of the heavens until daybreak over Tucuman. Kelley was at the wheel. Dawn was just breaking. Kelley gave a shout of joy when on looking over the side of the cockpit he spied the cemetery on the outskirts of Tucuman. It was a landmark we knew."

At Wheel 6 Hours at Time.
From that time on the aviators had not the slightest difficulty. They were flying in daylight over a section they knew well from their previous flight and the plane, lightened of much of its early burden of fuel, did all that was asked of it in climbing over the mountain ranges. They considered that part of the trip so easy that they barely commented on it."

MacReady and Kelley said that they exchanged positions at the wheel every six hours except while crossing over the Arizona forests. They then changed frequently, partly to rest and partly to arrange their schedule so that MacReady would handle the controls in making the landing here.

WEAVER PLEASED.
New York, May 4.—"We are jubilant over the success of Lieutenants MacReady and Kelley," Major Weaver said, "principally because they arrived safely. The fact they have established a new non-stop flight record for heavier than air machines comes secondary. Their take-off here was extremely dangerous and difficult." (Continued on Page 6)

SAYS ELECTION IS NECESSARY

F. A. Pike Claims Preus Can't Name Nelson Successor

St. Paul, Minn., May 4.—By a special election only may the vacancy in the United States senate caused by the death of Knute Nelson be filled, according to a statement issued today by F. A. Pike, chairman of the state central committee of the farmer-labor party.

Mr. Pike said in his statement that the 17th amendment to the national constitution, paragraph two reads:

"When vacancies happen in representation of any state in the senate the executive authority of such state shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies; provided, that the legislature of any state may empower the executive thereof to make temporary appointments until the people fill the vacancies by election as the legislature may direct."

Mr. Pike contends that no provision has been made in Minnesota for the governor to appoint a senator, and that since this legislative authority is lacking, he must call a special election to fill the post.

Chapter 520 of the laws of 1913, passed by the Minnesota legislature which is cited by many Minnesotans as giving the governor such authority of appointment, Mr. Pike declared wholly void, in that it was passed before the 17th amendment went into effect.

Conflict with Great Industrialists Is Seen as Change in Germany

FRANCE'S REJECTION

Possible Negotiations in Spite of Action Is Seen in London Press

London, May 4.—Although rejection by France of Germany's reparations proposals was expected here, the liberal press expresses the opinion that the German note has given an opportunity for conversations leading to negotiations.

The London News, although asserting that "Poincare could scarcely have accepted the German terms without stultifying his entire position," goes on to say that the German offer should be used as a starting point.

Some dispatches from Berlin predict the early fall of the Cuno government. The Westminster Gazette's Berlin correspondent says the ministry is expected to survive only a few weeks at the most and that it will be succeeded by a strong socialist cabinet which will throw its entire might into a life and death struggle to break the power of the great industrialists.

Krupp Head to Trial

Werden, May 4.—Ten officials of the Krupp works at Essen, charged with inciting their workmen to riot against the French forces of occupation, were placed on trial here today before a French court-martial.

Fourteen workmen lost their lives in being killed outright, and 30 were wounded in the riot which occurred on March 21 when a detachment of French troops visited the Krupp works to requisition automatic rifles.

Dr. Gustav Krupp von Bohlen, husband of Bertha Krupp and president of the Krupp company, was questioned for an hour and a half by Col. Beyronel, the presiding officer, as to the details of the disorders. The court was especially insistent as to the responsibility for the sounding of the factory siren which it is alleged, was for the purpose of calling the men together for resistance to the French.

TRIBUTE IS PAID PIONEER IN LAST RITES

Impressive Services Mark Funeral of Edmund Falkenstein at Home and Church

CAME HERE IN 1885

Simple and impressive funeral services were held this afternoon at the Presbyterian church for Edmund Falkenstein, a pioneer resident of Bismarck who died at the home of J. P. French, 617 Fourth Street Tuesday at the age of 85 years.

Rev. H. C. Postlethwaite, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. L. H. Johnson, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated at the short services held at the home and the services at the church. The casket was banked with flowers, the tributes of many friends of the deceased and his family and local lodge and other organizations.

H. L. Halvorsen and George Hummery sang "One Sweetly, Solemn Thought," "Abide With Me" and "Nearer My God to Thee," with Mrs. H. O. Way presiding at the pipe organ.

Mr. Falkenstein was born and reared on a farm in Preston county near Terra Alta, West Virginia, February 21, 1838. He secured a practical education of the time by working for his room and board during the week and walking several miles to and from the school at the beginning and end of the week. He later applied the training secured through this energy into use by teaching school for several years.

He was wedded on April 1, 1867, to Julia Meyer, also a teacher in the same county. They were parents of four children, Mrs. Charles T. Staley, Mrs. J. P. French and Mrs. H. T. O'Hare, all of Bismarck, and one son, Frank C., of Bottineau, N. D.

Ever mindful of the welfare of those dependent upon him Mr. Falkenstein in company with his oldest brother, Richard, who died several years ago, set out with their families for North Dakota, then beginning its development. They came to Bismarck in 1885. Mr. Falkenstein has made his home here ever since, and has helped in the building of the community from the rawness of the frontier.

Mr. Falkenstein was reared in the atmosphere of the Lutheran church and was an active worker in that church until coming to Bismarck, when he united with the Presbyterian church in the work of which he had always taken a keen interest, but had given up his active work in the church in late years only because of failing health.

Mr. Falkenstein is survived by his widow, four children and eleven grand children all of whom were present except members of the family of his son who are on the Pacific coast, with the exception of two sons who are in eastern colleges, and Miss Esther Staley, who is attending college, the latter being unable to be present because of school work.

Mr. and Mrs. Falkenstein have for years made their home with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. French whose tender care had comforted the deceased in his declining years.

Members of the Presbyterian church board of elders were the honorary pall-bearers, in recognition of the many years of service of the deceased to the church. They were: Messrs. E. M. Thompson, Benton Baker, W. F. Jones, J. I. Watkins, L. K. Thompson, J. L. Young, N. M. Fitch, L. P. Warren, Active Pall-bearers were W. A. McDonald, A. P. Lehnert, D. J. McGillis, E. J. Taylor, J. L. Bell and J. P. Jackson.

NEW CHUCKLE-MAKERS DISCOVERED FOR BIG ELKS MINSTREL FROLIC

Bob Loubek, D. E. Shipley, Joe Breslow, Larry Spencer and Others Will Be Included in The Cast For Show at Auditorium Friday Night.

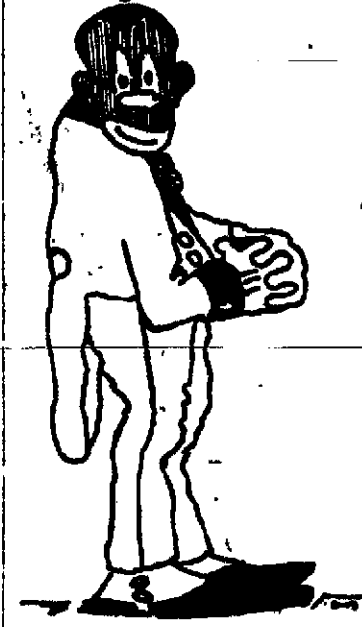

Those who have attended the rehearsals of the Elks' Minstrels are most enthusiastic over the way things are going for the show, and say the music is the catchiest ever presented by this popular organization. Much favorable comment is heard regarding the music store scene which is something decidedly out of the ordinary in the way of novelty acts. The act is full of clever comedy, tuncful airs and lively dancing. Both Henry Dubemeland and Frank Gale have instrumental numbers in the act and they will present something that is most entertaining. The big laughing bit of the act will be furnished by Wm. Laist, Joe Breslow, Joe Belonger and Bob Loubek; this quartette of fun makers have an argument in foreign tongues which is one of the funniest bits of stage business that has been seen in years. And to add more fun to the scene, I. C. Davies, M. H. Rogers, W. B. Couch, R. L. Morris and Rudy Patzman will present a lively dance. "Day By Day In Every Way," as sung by Verne Goddard is also a big hit, and George Russ in his vocal lesson would bring a laugh from an Egyptian Mummy. Clint Draper will have a dancing specialty in the act in which he will be assisted by T. H. Tharalson, L. H. Miller, Dick Hall, Harry Orr, Ralph Jewell, James Walsh and T. H. Halloran. Larry Spencer, well known to people of Bismarck through his work with the McKenzie Hotel Orchestra, will present some banjo solos during the act of the "Harmony Hounds." "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Sheen," as impersonated by Archie McPhee and Harry Bernstein will be a big feature of the show, and D. E. Shipley and Sam Paine have a real big time black-face act in which they depict two stranded minstrel men, late of the "Rabbits' Foot Minstrels." The gem of the show will be a scene from one of the big New York Musical comedies in which Miss Gladys Ackerman and Verne Goddard will appear. The Animated Toys, another novelty act, is being unusually well done according to the director, and they certainly bring forth rounds of applause at each rehearsal. Rex Berndt, who is one of the soloists this year, has one of the most pleasing numbers in the show, and "Hank" Halverson, without whom no Elks show is complete, is singing "Call Me Back Pal O' Mine" in a way that will bring repeated encores. Frank Gale, George Humphreys and H. H. Feiner have splendid numbers, too, and they certainly are going to make the vocal section of the show stand out. Tom Hall who will be the interlocutor, is busy rehearsing the endmen on their jokes and they will have some mighty good ones to "put across."

Every member of the big cast is working hard to make the show a real metropolitan production and their efforts will soon be a reality. Tomorrow night the opening performance will take place at the Auditorium and every one should be on hand to greet the performers and see the many surprises that are in store. The sale of seats is going in fine shape at Harris and Woodman-see's, but there are still quite a good many choice seats to be had—if you hurry. The performers and the Elks' band will appear on the streets tomorrow at noon and give a regular minstrel parade that will be a forerunner of the many good things in store for the audience on the nights of the show.

The big minstrel parade, headed by the band, will be at noon tomorrow. Elks in the parade are asked to meet at the Auditorium at 11:45 a. m.

RUM RUNNERS' FLEET AGAIN IS SIGHTED

Returns to Patrol Off East Coast After Being Driven Away Yesterday

New York, May 4.—The rum fleet which apparently had run away yesterday in the face of a three-sided attack by government forces has circled back and is lying in extended formation off the coast, Capt. Berry of the coast guard service announced today. The yacht Istar and the British tanker Warszawa are off Jones inlet while some schooners are scattered along in open formation about 12 miles apart.

The rum fleet which bobbed off the inlet after being driven by a land and water cordon from its old mooring place of Sandy Hook has adopted seaplane transportation to defeat the efforts of the government to block landing of liquor cargoes. It was announced at the customs house today.

A report of Lieut. Com. Camden of the coast guard cutter Seneca said the Seneca had surprised a large gray seaplane without identifying number of insignia at the side of the yacht yesterday. The yacht signalled the aviators that the Seneca was government craft and the plane quickly sped away.

MONUMENT IS PROPOSED

Preus Indorses Plan to Commemorate Knute Nelson

St. Paul, May 4.—A monument commemorating the life of the late Senator Knute Nelson, Minnesota's "grand old man" meets the hearty approval of Governor J. A. O. Preus. He announced today on his return from Alexandria where the senator was buried Wednesday. Governor Preus said he believed the fund for the memorial should be raised by popular subscription.

Governor Preus was appointed administrator of the senator's estate. The senator, the Governor said, distributed $22,000 among poor relations and set aside $2,000 for the purchase of books for the Alexandria library. He was unable to ascertain the full value of the estate, however, he said.

With him goes a dog, a present from his kidnappers, the lad insisting that unless his new pet accompanied him he did not want to go.

Harry Fairbanks of Ogdensburg, and Stanley Crandall of Rochester and Watertown, the alleged kidnappers, have escaped into Canada, it is believed. The trail was lost at Rockport, across the St. Lawrence river from Alexandria Bay.

Mrs. H. D. Grennell of Alexandria Bay, in whose charge the boy was found and who is said to be foster mother to Fairbanks' wife, is at the county jail here.

Now, a Quick Quaker Oats Cooks in 3 to 5 minutes The quickest cooking oats in the world

Now your grocer has Quaker Oats in two styles. One the kind you have always known—the other is Quick Quaker.

Quick Quaker cooks in from 3 to 5 minutes. And it cooks to perfection. So it is almost like a ready-cooked dish.

No other oat flakes on the market cook anywhere near so quickly.

The two styles are identical in quality and flavor. Both are flaked from the finest grains only—just the rich, plump, flaky oats. A bushel of choice oats yields but ten pounds of these delicious flakes.

But in Quick Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

Ask for Quick Quaker if you want this style. Your grocer has both. But always get Quaker Oats for their delightful flavor.

With the most dangerous diseases close on the trail of sufferers from constipation, there's no time to waste on foods with a low bran content! The one answer to constipation is BRAN that is ALL BRAN! That's why you should eat Kellogg's—and eat it regularly; at least two tablespoonfuls daily; as much with each meal in chronic cases! KELLOGG'S BRAN IS SCIENTIFICALLY PREPARED TO RELIEVE SUFFERING HUMANITY AS NO OTHER FOOD CAN!

Don't delay a minute! Get started on Kellogg's Bran to-day and your health will steadily improve and bowel conditions return to normal, no matter how long you have suffered with constipation, mild or chronic.

Remember that Kellogg's Bran is not an artificial laxative, but nature's own bulk food that acts as sweeper, cleanser and purifier. Its work for health is wonderful! Besides, bran contains the most valuable mineral salts and other life-sustaining elements—it is a blood maker and bone and tissue-builder!

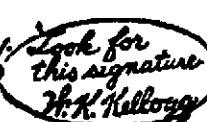

Kellogg's Bran, being cooked and krumbled, is delicious eaten as a cereal, or sprinkled on hot or cold cereals. Another happy way to serve Kellogg's Bran is to cook it with your favorite hot cereal. In preparation, add two tablespoonfuls of bran for each person, cooking the cereal as usual.

You can make the most delightful muffins, raisin bread, pancakes, macarons, etc., with Kellogg's Bran—and it's fine in gravies, soups and purees.

The big thing is to get started on Kellogg's Bran quickly—for the sake of the health of your entire family—AND SERVE IT REGULARLY! First-class hotels and clubs serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. Ask for it at your restaurant!

RUM RUNNERS' FLEET AGAIN IS SIGHTED

Returns to Patrol Off East Coast After Being Driven Away Yesterday

York, May 4.—The rum fleet which apparently had run away yesterday in the face of a three-sided attack by government forces, has circled back and is lying in extended formation off the coast, Capt. Berry of the coast guard service announced today. The yacht lister and the British tanker Waitawa are off Jones inlet while some schooners are scattered along in open formation about 12 miles apart.

The rum fleet which bobbed off the inlet after being driven by a land and water cordon from its old meeting place of Sandy Hook has adopted seaplane transportation to defeat the efforts of the government to block landing of liquor cargoes, it was announced at the customs house today.

A report of Lieut. Com. Camden of the coast guard cutter Seneca said the Seneca had surprised a large grey seaplane without identifying number of insignia at the side of the yacht yesterday. The yacht signalled the aviators that the Seneca was government craft and the plane quickly sped away.

MONUMENT IS PROPOSED

Preus Indorses Plan to Commemorate Knute Nelson

St. Paul, May 4.—A monument commemorating the life of the late Senator Knute Nelson, Minnesota, "grand old man" meets the hearty approval of Governor J. A. O. Preus he announced today on his return from Alexandria where the senator was buried Wednesday. Governor Preus said he believed the fund for the memorial should be raised by popular subscription.

Governor Preus was appointed administrator of the senator's estate. The senator, the governor said, distributed $22,000 among poor relations and set aside $2,000 for the purchase of books for the Alexandria library. He was unable to ascertain the full value of the estate, however, he said.

KIDNAPED LAD BACK AT HOME

Watertown, N. Y., May 4.—Bernie Alexanderson, kidnapped Schenectady lad, for whom a nation wide search was conducted for 72 hours and who was found Thursday evening in a shack on the Indiana river near Theresa 25 miles from here started for home today after a joyful reunion with his father and mother at the home of Sheriff Gillett.

With him goes a dog, a present from his kidnappers, the lad insisting that unless his new pet accompanied him he did not want to go.

Harry Fairbanks of Ogdensburg, and Stanley Randall of Rochester and Watertown, the alleged kidnapers, have escaped into Canada, it is believed. The trail was lost at Rockport, across the St. Lawrence river from Alexandria Bay.

Mrs. H. D. Grennell of Alexandria Bay, in whose charge the boy was found and who is said to be foster mother to Fairbanks' wife, is at the county jail here.

CAN'T AGREE ON REFEREE

Chicago, May 4.—Closing up loop holes for all concerned is the reason given for the over night delay in signing articles for the proposed 15-round contest for the world's heavy-weight boxing championship July 1 at Shelby Mont., between Champion Jack Dempsey and Tom Gibbons of St. Paul. The hitch seems to be over the selection of a referee and the opposition of Keating over the appointment of George Daugherty of Philadelphia.

Now, a Quick Quaker Oats

Cooks in 3 to 5 minutes
The quickest cooking oats in the world

Now your grocer has Quaker Oats in two styles. One the kind you have always known—the other is Quick Quaker.

Quick Quaker cooks in from 3 to 5 minutes. And it cooks to perfection. So it is almost like a ready-cooked dish.

No other oat flakes on the market cook anywhere near so quickly. The two styles are identical in quality and flavor. Both are flaked from the finest grains only—just the rich, plump, flavorful oats. A bushel of choice oats yields but ten pounds of these delicious flakes.

But in Quick Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

Ask for Quick Quaker if you want this style. Your grocer has both. But always get Quaker Oats for their delightful flavor.

AN IMPRESSIVE SHOWING

The Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce, which has been the object of denunciation in North Dakota and elsewhere because of its activity in the grain trade, is now rising to its own defense. A chart showing the fluctuations in the price of No. 1 northern wheat over a period of 29 years, every month of the year, is shown. During the normal years embraced in the chart there is shown to be very little fluctuation in price from September to September.

The Chamber also quotes the Joint Commission on Agricultural Inquiry of Congress to the effect that "these studies indicate rather conclusively that over a period of years under the existing system of grain marketing, the farmer who has sold his crop after the harvest has come off quite as well as the farmer who has held his grain and sold in the last half of the year."

The Chamber believes the present system is superior to any other proposed. It cannot be gainsaid that its first statement is impressive. The Chamber will find many open minds in North Dakota, and it ought to go before the people in support of its contentions.

THE MARVELOUS AGE

Two intrepid army airmen have flown from New York to San Diego without stopping. In one day they have spanned the continent. The same flight in opposite direction would have carried them across the Atlantic Ocean, already crossed. New air expeditions around the world are in course of preparation, and none now is so skeptical as to predict the trip will not be accomplished in the near future.

The development of the airplane ranks as one of the most marvelous accomplishments of a marvelous age. Before the war the airplane was yet virtually in the experimental stage, regarded as wholly unsafe, impractical for travel and very expensive. Now air liners travel regularly from London to Paris, and between other cities. Each remarkable achievement in aeronautics increases confidence that within a few years air liners may travel in all parts of the United States.

It ought not to be overlooked, in recording the achievement of Lieuts. MacReady and Kelley, that they are a part of the United States Army. Congress has been meager with appropriations for the Air Service, in spite of the importance of the airplane in the World War and predictions of its supremacy in the future. With officers of great scientific ability and pilots who have shown the skill and courage to break the world's record for speed and sustained flight, Congress ought to give generous support to the development of the Air Service.

ENDURANCE

The endurance dancing craze fizzles. It taught that real strength is in the will power, not in muscles. Similar contests come in every generation, so we're as rational as our ancestors.

In 1899 Miller and Walker bicycled 2733 miles, beginning Monday and ending Saturday night.

Twenty-two years before that, William Gale, a Welsh bookbinder, walked 1500 miles in 1000 hours.

A man in Utica, N. Y., lifted himself on tiptoe 20,000 times without stopping.

A girl in the Sandwich Islands swam 40 miles against running surf.

Nothing is futile, as long as it entertains bored humanity.

QUEER

In Alaska U. S. Marshal Webster, while "bringing in" an Indian charged with murder, collapses with appendicitis. The prisoner ties Webster to a sledge and rushes him 100 miles to the jail hospital. A white prisoner would have run away. The Indian wasn't afraid of the marshal, but he was afraid of the law back of the marshal. Like the Royal Mounted, our police force in Alaska "get their men"—and the law-breakers know it. Nothing disheartens a crook as much as the knowledge that he will be hounded until caught no matter how many years it takes.

BOONE

A Frenchman named Georges Masdusheil de Colange has married an American girl who is a direct descendant of Daniel Boone. We wonder what rough-and-ready Dan would have said if anyone had told him that one of his descendants would marry a name like that. Dan would call him "Col." The Frenchman is of noble blood, from an old Norman family.

Time and marriage even everything up in this world from social rank to wealth. There's an old saying, "Shirtsleeves to shirtsleeves in three generations." Nowadays, longer.

LENIN

You've heard a lot of contradictory stories about Lenin. Here's one that ranks at the top for earmarks of authenticity.

Joseph Henschen, of Oakland, Florida, gets a letter from his brother in Sweden. The brother is one of Lenin's personal physicians. He writes that the Red Czar is paralyzed and helpless. That's about as near the truth as you'll ever get, unless you live to see Lenin's body embalmed.

HOKUM

A religious fanatic, William Miller, predicted that the world would come to an end Oct. 22, 1844. He had a big following—so big, in fact, that the leading store in New York City displayed huge signs in its windows, offering "white muslin for ascension robes." The store did a tremendous business until Oct. 23 came and people found the world going ahead as usual. On the average, we're just as sane as our ancestors. Which isn't saying much for either of us.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

NO CONFLICT

The writer of an article in a current magazine refers to the conflict which he thinks he sees between the League of Nations idea and the world court idea. His discussion of the subject would lead to the conclusion that those who favor the world court are necessarily opposed to the League of Nations, and vice versa.

Such an estimate is wholly unsound. There are advocates of the world court who would keep the United States out of the League of Nations, and there may be—although we have not heard of any—those who favor the League but oppose our joining the court. But this division of sentiment is not necessary, nor is it by any means universal. Practically all of those who favor the League favor the court. Some of them consider the League of the greater and more immediate importance, and would have this nation join the League first and then gravitate naturally into the court. But there is no antagonism between the two.

Friends of international cooperation and betterment in international organization for the orderly settlement of international differences must recognize the fact that membership in the world court is the utmost in that direction that we can expect for some time. With prompt action by the senate next December, the United States could be a member of the world court within a few weeks, or at most within a very few months, the only delay for the completion of the necessary formalities. Under no circumstances is there any possibility of our entrance into the League until a much later date. The thing to do is to join the court as soon as possible and consider the League question when we come to it.—Grand Forks Herald.

MANDAN NEWS

Schmidt Pleads Guilty to Assault

F. Schmidt, Fallon farmer, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery when he was arraigned before Justice G. L. Olson yesterday afternoon. He was sentenced to 25 days in jail.

The formal charge was made by State's Attorney L. H. Connolly personally against Schmidt after Schmidt's wife had told of threats to kill her as made to a Fletcher physician, attended injuries she received at the hands of her husband.

Mrs. Schmidt with a broken rib and severe bruises, cuts and strained muscles, and suffering from mental shock, as the result of alleged beating administered by her husband Tuesday is unable to travel. Schmidt is held in jail pending further investigations.

A large class of candidates was initiated into the Rebekah lodge Wednesday evening under the captaincy of Mrs. Emma McCadam. The hall was decorated with potted plants and cut flowers.

C. R. Green of Bismarck, president of the home boards, talked briefly on the proposed Old Fellows home to be built sometime this year at Devils Lake.

During the social hour following the business meeting two members who will leave Mandan, Mrs. Charles Edquist and Miss Euleta Crosthwaite, were presented by Mrs. A. M. Packard with cut glass dishes. Mrs. Edquist will leave June 1 for Forsyth, Mont., and Miss Crosthwaite leaves Sunday evening for Chicago, where her marriage takes place, May 15.

Simoon Lanterman, 84, brother of W. A. Lanterman of Mandan, died at his home in Crookston, Minn., Wednesday night following a prolonged illness and general breakdown in health. W. A. and Albert Lanterman left yesterday to attend the funeral services.

Miss Amanda Iverson, president of the Business and Professional Women's clubs, and Miss Josephine Monson, treasurer, will represent the club at the meeting of the North Dakota Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs to be held at Jamestown May 11-12. The delegates were named at a meeting held Wednesday night.

As Laughmaker

Douglas MacLean is dynamic in his characterization of Sam Haggart, the man who is mortally afraid of horses, in Thomas H. Ince's new comedy drama special "The Hottentot."

MacLean will be remembered chiefly for his work in "Twenty Three and a Half Hours Leave," with Doris May. He has appeared in a number of Ince productions, but by far his best comedy work is in "The Hottentot."

He wins the sympathy of his audience and tremendous applause when, after a number of absurdly funny situations he is forced, in spite of his dread of horses, to ride

"The Hottentot" because he has been mistaken for a famous stepple chase rider.

A deafening roar—then tons of rock and earth rent asunder by a charge of dynamite, rose in air. These followed the rumble of huge fragments falling to the ground; after that—silence.

This is the dramatic finish of the Fox production, "Boss of Camp Four," starring Charles Jones, which will be shown at the Capitol Theatre for 2 days, starting to-night. The events that precede this incident are even more exciting.

Charles Jones is gazed and bound within one hundred yards of a tunnel containing blasting powder used in road construction. Inside the excavation is a man who has gone to examine the explosives. Although he sees all these things, Jones, in the character of "Het Fanning," seems helpless. The man supervising the blasting orders the hole closed, preparatory to igniting the powder.

Jones finally frees himself and—but that is the story. It is filled with interest and action. There is a love theme, too. If you like stirring tales of the outdoors, here is a narrative that should satisfy your need for entertainment. Judging from this star's previous pictures, his latest offering is bound to be even more engrossing, should provide an enjoyable evening.

This is the dramatic finish of the Fox production, "Boss of Camp Four," starring Charles Jones, which will be shown at the Capitol Theatre for 2 days, starting to-night. The events that precede this incident are even more exciting.

Decorations Form Artistic Setting For H. S. Banquet

A hundred and fifty-five high school students and members of the faculty were seated at the dining room tables in the McKenzie hotel last evening when the Junior-Senior banquet was served at 7:30 o'clock.

The dining hall was decorated in the class colors, streamers of crepe paper of green and white being used to form festoons over the windows and on the pillars in the dining room. At the back of the dining room opposite the entrance appeared an arch of green and white which served as a frame for the words of the class motto, "Smile through," which was worked out with lavender flowers. The long tables at which the student body and instructional staff were seated were decorated with yellow jonquils and white carnations.

The place cards were rolled up to represent miniature diplomas in which were found dance programs. They were carried out on pearl gray paper.

Much of the success of the banquet was due to the following students who had charge of the program:

Edgar Scott, president of the Junior class, chairman of the toast committee; George Knowles, menu; Janet Careful, decorations; Ruth Howlings, place cards, and Cyril King, seating.

The program for the occasion included the following toasts and songs:

Edgar Scott toastmaster—"Address of welcome."

Jack Burke—"Our Competent Advisors."

Dorothy Moses—"The Scenes you Have Gazed Upon for the Past Three Years."

Eugene Hahn—Solo, Kenneth Ereson—"Through the Telescope."

Miss Elizabeth Jones—"Reminiscences."

Terrace Holloman—President of the Junior class, "Response."

The McKenzie orchestra furnished music for the singing of the various class songs which were an important part of the program. Following the banquet dancing was enjoyed in the lobby of the McKenzie.

AN IMPRESSIVE SHOWING

The Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce, which has been the object of denunciation in North Dakota and elsewhere because of its activity in the grain trade, is now rising to its own defense. A chart showing the fluctuations in the price of No. 1 northern wheat over a period of 29 years, every month of the year, is shown. During the normal years embraced in the chart there is shown to be very little fluctuation in price from September to September.

The Chamber also quotes the Joint Commission on Agricultural Inquiry of Congress to the effect that "these studies indicate rather conclusively that over a period of years under the existing system of grain marketing, the farmer who has sold his crop after the harvest has come off quite as well as the farmer who has held his grain and sold in the last half of the year."

The Chamber believes the present system is superior to any other proposed. It cannot be gainsaid that its first statement is impressive. The Chamber will find many open minds in North Dakota, and it ought to go before the people in support of its contentions.

THE MARVELOUS AGE

Two intrepid army airmen have flown from New York to San Diego without stopping. In one day they have spanned the continent. The same flight in opposite direction would have carried them across the Atlantic Ocean, already crossed. New air expeditions around the world are in course of preparation, and none now is so skeptical as to predict the trip will not be accomplished in the near future.

The development of the airplane ranks as one of the most marvelous accomplishments of a marvelous age. Before the war the airplane was yet virtually in the experimental stage, regarded as wholly unsafe, impractical for travel and very expensive. Now air liners travel regularly from London to Paris, and between other cities. Each remarkable achievement in aeronautics increases confidence that within a few years air liners may travel in all parts of the United States.

It ought not to be overlooked, in recording the achievement of Lieut. MacReady and Kelley, that they are a part of the United States Army. Congress has been meager with appropriations for the Air Service, in spite of the importance of the airplane in the World War and predictions of its supremacy in the future. With officers of great scientific ability and pilots who have shown the skill and courage to break the world's record for speed and sustained flight, Congress ought to give generous support to the development of the Air Service.

ENDURANCE

The endurance dancing craze fizzles. It taught that real strength is in the will power, not in muscles. Similar contests come in every generation, so we're as rational as our ancestors.

In 1899 Miller and Walker bicycled 2733 miles, beginning Monday and ending Saturday night.

Twenty-two years before that, William Gale, a Welsh bookbinder, walked 1500 miles in 1000 hours.

A man in Utica, N. Y., lifted himself on tiptoe 20,000 times without stopping.

A girl in the Sandwich Islands swam 40 miles against running surf.

Nothing is futile, as long as it entertains bored humanity.

QUEER

In Alaska U. S. Marshal Webster, while "bringing in" an Indian charged with murder, collapses with appendicitis. The prisoner ties Webster to a sledge and rushes him 100 miles to the jail hospital. A white prisoner would have run away. The Indian wasn't afraid of the marshal, but he was afraid of the law back of the marshal. Like the Royal Mounted, our police force in Alaska "get their men"—and the law-breakers know it. Nothing disheartens a crook as much as the knowledge that he will be hounded until caught no matter how many years it takes.

BOONE

A Frenchman named Georges Masdusheil de Colange has married an American girl who is a direct descendant of Daniel Boone. We wonder what rough-and-ready Dan would have said if anyone had told him that one of his descendants would marry a name like that. Dan would call him "Col." The Frenchman is of noble blood, from an old Norman family. Time and marriage even everything up in this world from social rank to wealth. There's an old saying, "Shirtsleeves to shirtsleeves in three generations." Nowadays, longer.

LENIN

You've heard a lot of contradictory stories about Lenin. Here's one that ranks at the top for earmarks of authenticity.

Joseph Hensen, of Oakland, Florida, gets a letter from his brother in Sweden. The brother is one of Lenin's personal physicians. He writes that the Red Czar is paralyzed and helpless. That's about as near the truth as you'll ever get, unless you live to see Lenin's body embalmed.

HOKUM

A religious fanatic, William Miller, predicted that the world would come to an end Oct. 22, 1844. He had a big following—so big, in fact, that the leading store in New York City displayed huge signs in its windows, offering "white muslin for ascension robes." The store did a tremendous business until Oct. 23 came and people found the world going ahead as usual. On the average, we're just as sane as our ancestors. Which isn't saying much for either of us.

NO CONFLICT

The writer of an article in a current magazine refers to the conflict which he thinks he sees between the League of Nations and the world court idea. His discussion of the subject would lead to the conclusion that those who favor the world court are necessarily opposed to the League of Nations, and vice versa. Such an estimate is wholly unsound. There are advocates of the world court who would keep the United States out of the League of Nations, and there may be—although we have not heard of any—those who favor the League but oppose our joining the court. But this division of sentiment is not necessary, nor is it in any means universal. Practically all of those who favor the League favor the court. Some of them consider the League of the greater and more immediate importance, and would have this nation join the League first and then gravitate naturally into the court. But there is no antagonism between the two. Friends of international cooperation and believers in international organization for the orderly settlement of international differences must recognize the fact that membership in the world court is the utmost in that direction that we can expect for some time. With prompt action by the senate next December, the United States could be a member of the world court within a few weeks, or at most within a very few months, the only delay for the completion of the necessary formalities. Under no circumstances is there any possibility of our entrance into the League until a much later date. The thing to do is to join the court as soon as possible and consider the League question when we come to it. Grand Forks Herald.

AT THE MOVIES

"The Hottentot"
Record Breaker As Laughmaker

Douglas MacLean is dynamic in his characterization of Sam Hurlington, the man who is mortally afraid of horses, in Thomas H. Ince's new comedy drama special "The Hottentot."

MacLean will be remembered chiefly for his work in "Twenty Three and a Half Hours' Leave," with Doris May. He has appeared in a number of Ince productions, but by far his best comedy work is in "The Hottentot."

He wins the sympathy of his audience and tremendous applause when, after a number of absurdly funny situations he is forced, in spite of his dread of horses, to ride

"The Hottentot" because he has been mistaken for a famous steppie chase rider.

THE CAPITOL.

A deafening roar then tone of rock and earth rent asunder by a charge of dynamite, rose in air. There followed the tumble of huge fragments falling to the ground; after that—silence.

This is the dramatic finish of the Fox production, "Boss of Camp Peary," starring Charles Jones, which will be shown at the Capitol Theatre for 2 days, starting to-night. The events that precede this incident are even more exciting.

Charles Jones is gagged and bound within one hundred yards of a tunnel containing blasting powder used in road construction. Inside the excavation is a man who has gone to examine the explosives. Although he sees all these things, Jones, in the character of Chet Fanning, seems helpless. The man supervising the blasting orders the hole closed, preparatory to igniting the powder. Jones finally frees himself and but that is the story. It is filled with interest and action. There is a love theme, too. If you like stirring tales of the outdoors, hear a narrative that should satisfy your need for entertainment. Judging from this star's previous picture, his latest offering reported to be even more engrossing, should provide an enjoyable evening.

A THOUGHT

Great men are not always wise, neither do the aged understand judgment.—Job 32:9.

Man's unhappiness, as I construe, comes of his greatness; it is because there is an Infinite in him, which with all his cunning he cannot quite bury under the finite.—Carlyle.

EVERETT TRUE BY CONDO

LETTER FROM MISS MARY ALDEN PRESCOTT TO HER SON, JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT.

MY DEAR BOY:

I cannot understand from your letter just how Leslie came to burn his pipe being lighted from a cigarette. I do hope that Leslie is not smoking too much. Of course I think that smoking at all is too much, but dear Priscilla Bradford told me that Leslie had that modern habit, so naturally I can only think that the accident of which you speak as an excuse for your wife not writing me has come in some way from that deplorable habit.

I wish, my son, you had told me that you were going to marry in such haste. Had I known this I would have tried during the last year to have saved enough money out of my meager income to have painted the house this spring. As it is, I presume the old homestead will have to go neglected and forlorn. It would not have been so had your father lived.

My kindest regards and commiserate Leslie upon her accident and believe me always,
YOUR LOVING MOTHER

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO HER FRIEND, BEATRICE GRIMSHAW.

I am sending you, dear Bee, the enclosed letter from Jack's mother to him. I have copied it verbatim. Evidently the dear old lady does not like to see a woman smoke, and will you believe it, now that Jack and I are married, it seems to me that even he has changed his opinion somewhat on the subject. He used to say that a pretty girl smoking a cigarette gracefully was to him the most beautiful thing in the world, but the other night after reading his mother's letter, which he found lying unopened beside his ash tray, he said, "Are you sure that your beautiful teeth will not be discolored if you smoke much?" I answered, "How long have you been smoking, Jack?" "About ten years." "How many cigarettes do you smoke a day?" "About twenty or thirty." "Well, my dear," I said truthfully, "I think your beautiful teeth were the things that first attracted me." "And do they still attract me?" "Leslie darling?" said Jack, coming over close to me and smiling as he bent to kiss me. I find that when my husband's lips touch mine I feel as though all the world is on the outside and for us there is only the present with its living joy to thank about. The joy of loving then seems to me the only art worth learning. There, I am getting too sentimental. But then, dear Bee, although I am just married you know I have already learned something very important. Very necessary to a successful wife. She must hug to her heart all the sentiment that comes into it and dismiss from her mind all the disagreeable thoughts that might find lodgment there. Lovingly, LESLIE.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

The Twins stood in front of General Hobbledohy of the tin soldier army. They were wondering what was going to happen.

The general had sent for them and they had just arrived.

"Ahem!" went the tin soldier commander importantly. "Your names, please."

"Nancy," said Nancy.

"Nick," said Nick.

"Very good!" said General Hobbledohy. "Ages, please."

"Half past seven," they both answered together.

"Very good!" said General Hobbledohy again. "Now, let's see! There are several charges against you. First of all, you have been on the side of the wooden soldiers ever since you came to Bing-Bang Land, haven't you?"

"Sometimes, sir!" answered Nick.

"But we really came to stop the war."

"Hm! Very good!" said General Hobbledohy for the third time.

"You sent up a war balloon to spy on us, didn't you?" he went on.

"Once, sir!" Nick confessed.

"And you told the wooden soldiers to use water guns so we would rust, didn't you?"

"No, sir, we didn't," declared Nick.

"And you came in an airplane to find out everything you could?"

"Yes, sir!"

"And when we put you in prison, you escaped?"

"Yes, sir!"

"Well, I am going to pardon everything," said General Hobbledohy suddenly.

"Thank you, sir!" said the Twins together in surprise. "Why, sir?"

"You made a mistake when you put new uniforms on two soldiers in the wooden army when they were in the hospital," said the general. "You made Private Buttons into a general. Now the wooden army is ruined and the tin army shall win the war. am going to pin a medal on each of you."

This speech surprised the Twins so much they could not even say, "Thank you."

DETROIT GOES INTO FIRST PLACE TODAY

Break Tie by Defeating the Cleveland Indians, Six to Five

Chicago, May 4.—The Detroit Tigers broke the tie for first place in the American League yesterday by defeating the Cleveland Indians, 6 to 5, and fought their way to the top of the heap. Through their victory over Washington, 3 to 2, the New York Yankees ripped into second place while Tris Speaker's Cleveland Indians were dancing in third.

Hard hitting by St. Louis won over Chicago, 6 to 4, giving the Browns an even break in the series. Brilliant fielding by Boston's infield while Franzen's defense was cracking gave the Red Sox a 3 to 1 victory over the Athletics.

Charlie Grimm's three-bagger, which helped Pittsburgh defeat Cincinnati, 3 to 1, featured the National League individual performances. It was the 16th consecutive game this season in which the Pirates' slugger had batted safely.

Brooklyn, with a heavy bombardment, broke its losing streak to New York by trimming the Giants, 11 to 3, in the last of the inter-borough series. Long John Scott, Giant world series hero, was wallowed out of the Polo Grounds.

"Cy" Williams hit his sixth home-run of the year with one on for Philadelphia and won the game for the Quakers over Boston, 6 to 4. Jim Bottomley's two hits scored three runs for St. Louis and the Cardinals defeated Chicago, 3 to 2.

Grover Alexander, veteran pitcher of the Cubs, is showing wonderful control this year. He has pitched four games, 34 innings, without walking an opponent.

George Burns of the Red Sox is doing some heavy hitting these days. He had a perfect day at bat against Hasty of the Athletics, cracking out three hits in three times at bat and ran his average to .426.

Vermilion, O., May 4. Just outside of this little town, on his splendid 65-acre estate, Johnny Kilbane, king of all featherweights, is training busily for an active summer of fighting.

Two fights seem certain—those with Eugene Criqui and Johnny Dundee. But before delving into Johnny's daily life during his training period, it is well to give you, once and for all, his own thoughts concerning the Kilbane-Muldoon-Dundee so-called talkfest raging so healthily in New York.

"Frankly," Johnny told the writer for The Tribune, "I haven't paid a lot of attention to all that has been said."

"But get this straight: I have never refused and never will refuse to meet Dundee so long as I am in the game. All talk to the contrary is rot. The only time I was slated to meet him, since our fight 10 years ago, I was ready, but something came up on his part to prevent it."

Signed for Criqui.
"But as matters stand now, I have signed to meet Criqui in New York on June 2. That fight is all set. I am working for Tom O'Rourke, and will play square with him. Whatever he says, I will do. If O'Rourke tells me to fight Dundee, I will do so, if my terms are met. I don't give a rap who is put against me. I never did, and I never will."

Johnny would like to see the Criqui fight go through on its schedule, there is no doubt about that. Then he will be willing and anxious to meet Dundee—at 125 pounds—there also is no question about that. It is difficult to see how Chairman Muldoon of the New York Commission can say arbitrarily that Kilbane must meet Dundee first and then Criqui, if O'Rourke wants Kilbane to meet Criqui first and then Dundee.

cludes some of the richest land in this part of the country. This ground is being cultivated, and next year he will have a healthy crop of potatoes, tomatoes, radishes, and the rest of the vegetables that go to make a successful garden.

Has Own Gas Plant.
He has drilled his ground and struck gas which he uses. He also has his own electric light and water pumping systems. In other words, it is a complete little world, and one which will find Johnny every summer for the rest of his life.

Kilbane fondly hopes to retire from the game this year. He adds with a chuckle that he has said this before, but that this time he means it. Al Ziemer will probably be the recipient of the title should this come true. And Johnny is schooling him to protect it in true Kilbane fashion.

PRIZE ESSAY

The prize winning essay on "Parks for Bismarck. Where? When? How? Where?" written by Vera Person of William Moore school reads as follows:

Since cities no longer are built around forums or market place it has become necessary for groups to measure and find places for themselves with their neighbors; get new social ideas and a better standard of what is acceptable for those "higher up." Only too often do our American villages grow into great cities before remembering to set aside a place for a community center and real estates have swallowed up the last vacant lot. When the family stays together then we have wholesome conditions. We must have parks for Bismarck. The greatest work is done by groups not individuals.

Parks and play-grounds must be provided. Our first essential is a definite plan.

There are three classes of parks; first we have the large natural parks, here we class Sibley Island. It has many beautiful natural spots among these are the many deer, tame birds and lesser animals. There are magnificent oaks and elms intertwined with vines and hammersweet, which were probably there when Lewis and Clark came up the river, the only difficulty is the way of approach but a pontoon bridge can be constructed at very little expense.

Dr. Walton of Fargo knows of no more beautiful sight, than the Missouri River cliffs beyond the country club. Here are many Indian sights.

The second class is composed of the smaller parks, here we place "Custer Park," it is within walking distance of people who have no cars. Gymnasium apparatus and sandpiles, swings and camp fire grates could be provided. It is near the swimming pool.

Apple Creek would make an ideal park. The grounds being used for camping, and Apple Creek used for swimming. There is a large open tract of land which can be used for playground apparatuses. Whole families could come here for week ends. They need go no farther to find nature.

The third class consists of parks already existing such as the school grounds, and the capital park with its beautiful landscaping.

"When"

The answer to "When" is "Now." It does not mean that a huge expensive program should be undertaken at once, but that a beginning should be made that is a definite policy presented, a park commission chosen, and a system planned. Great buildings can be constructed in a few months, but it takes years to construct shrubs and trees. Real estate values have never been so low as today in the history of the state.

A definite plan is our first essential. Second we must have a park commission elected by the people, people with high ideals and who are all working for the same principal.

There are two ways of getting a park. First by a gift from a citizen. Second by having a park commission levy taxes to buy land for parks.

But a park commission, duly elected, may buy (by levying taxes) and direct parks under the law, for the law does not give the city commission power to levy taxes on parks or direct them.

The joy of the doing is the greatest joy of all after all.

Business Cycles Committee Reports Expansion Period Is Proper Time To Guard Against Pitfalls of Depression

MATTHEW WOLL

HERBERT HOOVER

OWEN D. YOUNG

The time to guard against the recurrence of a business depression like that which threw 4,000,000 Americans out of work in 1921 is during just such periods of business expansion as the country now experiences, according to the report of the committee on Unemployment and Business Cycles appointed by Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, in his capacity as Chairman of the President's Conference on Unemployment.

After four months of exhaustive study, the committee, headed by Owen D. Young, president of the General Electric Company, has reported to Secretary Hoover that unless the individual business man informs himself constantly as to the true state of supply and demand in his particular commodity line he inevitably will be led to over-buying again at high prices, and that means a dangerous and costly slump, draining the dollars earned in "good times."

General measures recommended to aid the business man in safeguarding himself from inflation include control of credit expansion by banks and the Federal Reserve system, control of private construction during peaks of building, avoidance of competition with private business during boom times by control of governmental construction, and perhaps the institution of unemployment reserve funds.

The committee's report asks for comment by business men on the findings it has made public. It urges enlargement of such current fact-giving organs as the Survey of Current Business, issued by the Department of Commerce, and it pleads for full co-operation from the business public in the matter of furnishing governmental authorities with full and up-to-date figures on commodity stocks.

Besides the Chairman, the investigators included Joseph H. Deffrees, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce; Mary Van Kleeck, of the Russell Sage Foundation; Matthew Woll, vice-president of the American Federation of Labor; Clarence M. Wooley, president of the American Radiator Company, and Edward Eyre Hunt, secretary of the President's Conference on Unemployment. Economic experts say that the report points the way to a safer future for the pocket-book of every citizen of the United States.

The officers' feat established a new non-stop record for all types of airplanes. Captain John Alcock and Lieutenant Arthur Brown, British aviators, crossed the Atlantic ocean in June, 1919, flying 1,960 miles from New Foundland to Ireland.

The NC-2 of the United States navy in May, 1919, made a flight of 1,219 miles crossing the Atlantic from New Foundland to the Azores. In July, 1919, the British dirigible R-34 established a non-stop flight record for all aircraft when it flew 3,200 miles, crossing the Atlantic from east to west and return.

English firm of bacon-curers paid $50,000 for the recipe to cure hams by the Brandenburg method.

In Iceland men kiss when they meet, but a man rarely kisses a woman.

First steamship to cross the Atlantic was the Britannia, July 4, 1840.

Standing Back of Your Mousetraps

A shoe manufacturer whose store in New York City is in a rather out-of-the-way locality recently called the attention of the reading public to the familiar lines:

"If a man can write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mousetrap than his neighbor, though he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."

For many years people have beaten a path to this shoe manufacturer's door. He has proved the truth of this famous aphorism.

And where did he publish this quotation which he applies with such pride to his business?

Why, in an advertisement, to be sure—for this manufacturer is a consistent and regular advertiser, and when he has anything to say, he says it through his advertising. It may fairly be assumed that he would not look for a thriving business in the best of mousetraps, or shoes, if people were not told about them as people except to be told—through advertising.

Of course, people do find out which are the best mousetraps, the best shoes, the best tires, the best breakfast foods, and buy them in preference to others.

And people today are pretty well aware that when a manufacturer puts Advertising back of the thing he makes, he is telling the world that the path to his door is a broad highway.

MARKET NEWS

LIVERPOOL'S
WHEAT RISE IS REFLECTED

Chicago Board of Trade Also Shows Higher Prices Early
Today

Chicago, May 4.—Influenced chiefly by an unexpected upturn in Liverpool quotations the wheat market here scored an advance today during the early dealings. Offerings were light, and it took but little buying to bring about a rise in values. Government reports referring to severe damage to winter wheat in parts of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois attracted considerable notice. The opening which ranged from 1/2 cents to 3/4 cents higher was followed by something of a reaction and then by new gains.

Weakness in the stock market tended to check demand for wheat later, and led to lower prices despite an opposite bias in the first part of the trading session. The close was heavy 4-1 to 1-1/2 cents net lower, with July, 118 1/4 to 118 3/8, and September, 116 7/8 to 117.

DETROIT GOES INTO FIRST PLACE TODAY

Break Tie by Defeating the Cleveland Indians, Six to Five

Chicago, May 4.—The Detroit Tigers broke the tie for first place in the American League yesterday by defeating the Cleveland Indians, 6 to 5, and fought their way to the top of the heap. Through their victory over Washington, 3 to 2, the New York Yankees slipped into second place while the St. Louis Browns and Philadelphia Phillies were tied for third. Hard hitting by St. Louis won over Chicago, 6 to 4, giving the Browns an even break in the series. Brilliant fielding by Boston's infield while Philadelphia's defense was cracking gave the Red Sox a 3 to 1 victory over the Athletics.

Charlie Grimm's three-bagger, which helped Pittsburgh defeat Cincinnati, 3 to 1, featured the National League individual performances. It was the 10th consecutive game this season in which the Pirates' slugger had batted safely.

Brooklyn, with a heavy bombardment, broke its losing streak to New York by trimming the Giants 11 to 3 in the last of the inter-borough series. Long John Scott, Giant world series hero, was walloped out of the Polo Grounds.

Clyde Williams hit his sixth homerun of the year with one on for Philadelphia and won the game for the Quakers over Boston, 6 to 4. Jim Bottomley's two hits scored three runs for St. Louis and the Cardinals defeated Chicago, 3 to 2.

Grever Alexander, veteran pitcher of the Cubs, is showing wonderful control this year. He has pitched four games, 24 innings, without walking an opponent.

George Burns of the Red Sox is doing some heavy hitting these days. He had a perfect day at bat against the Athletics, cracking out three hits in three times at bat and ran his average to .426.

By NEA Service.
Vernon, O., May 4. Just outside of this little town, on his splendid 65-acre estate, Johnny Kilbane, king of all featherweights, is training lustily for an active summer of fighting.

Two fights seem certain — those with Eugene Criqui and Johnny Dundee. But before delving into Johnny's daily life during his training period, it is well to give you, once and for all, his own thoughts concerning the Kilbane-Muldoon-Dundee so-called talkfest raging so healthily in New York.

"Frankly," Johnny told the writer for The Tribune, "I haven't paid a lot of attention to all that has been said.

"But get this straight: I have never refused and never will refuse to meet Dundee so long as I am in the game. All talk to the contrary is rot. The only time I was slated to meet him, since our fight 19 years ago, I was ready, but something came up on his part to prevent it.

Signed for Criqui.
"But as matters stand now, I have signed to meet Criqui in New York on June 2. That fight is all set. I am in training for it. And moreover, I am working for Tom O'Rourke, and will play square with him. Whatever he says, I will do. If O'Rourke tells me to fight Dundee, I will do so, if my terms are met. I don't give a rap who is put against me. I never did, and I never will."

Johnny would like to see the Criqui fight go through on its schedule, there is no doubt about that. Then he will be willing and anxious to meet Dundee—at 125 pounds—there also is no question about that. It is difficult to see how Chairman Muldoon of the New York Commission can say arbitrarily that Kilbane must meet Dundee first and then Criqui, if O'Rourke wants Kilbane to meet Criqui first and then Dundee.

cludes some of the richest land in this part of the country. This ground is being cultivated, and next year he will have a healthy crop of potatoes, tomatoes, radishes, and the rest of the vegetables that go to make a successful garden.

Has Own Gas Plant.
He has drilled his ground and struck gas which he uses. He also has his own electric light and water pumping systems. In other words, it is a complete little world, and one which will find Johnny every summer for the rest of his life.

Kilbane fondly hopes to retire from the game this year. He adds with a chuckle that he has said this before, but that this time he means it. Al Ziemer will probably be the recipient of the title should this come true. And Johnny is schooling him to protect it in true Kilbane fashion.

PRIZE ESSAY

The prize winning essay on "Parks for Bismarck. Where? When? How? Whose?" written by Vera Person of William Moore school reads as follows:

Since cities no longer are built around forums or market place it has become necessary for groups to measure and find places for themselves with their neighbors; get new social ideas and a better standard of what is acceptable for those "higher up." Only too often our American villages grow into great cities before remembering to set aside a place for a community center and real estates have swallowed up the last vacant lot. When the family stays together then we have wholesome conditions. We must have parks for Bismarck. The greatest work is done by groups not individuals.

Parks and play-grounds must be provided. Our first essential is a definite plan.

There are three classes of parks: first we have the large natural parks, here we class Sibley Island. It has many beautiful natural spots among these are the many deer, tame birds and lesser animals. There are magnificent oaks and elms intertwined with vines and hammersweet, which were probably there when Lewis and Clark came up the river, the only difficulty is the way of approach but a pontoon bridge can be constructed at very little expense.

Dr. Walton of Fargo knows of no more beautiful sight, than the Missouri River cliffs beyond the country club. Here are many Indian sights.

The second class is composed of the smaller parks, here we place "Custer Park." It is within walking distance of people who have no cars. Gymnasium apparatus and sandpiles swings and camp fire grates could be provided. It is near the swimming pool.

Apple Creek would make an ideal park. The grounds being used for camping, and Apple Creek used for swimming. There is a large open tract of land which can be used for playground apparatus. Whole families could come here for week ends. They need go no farther to find nature.

The third class consists of parks already existing such as the school grounds, and the capitol park with its beautiful landscaping.

Business Cycles Committee Reports Expansion Period Is Proper Time To Guard Against Pitfalls of Depression

MATTHEW WOLL HERBERT HOOVER OWEN D. YOUNG

The time to guard against the recurrence of a business depression like that which threw 4,000,000 Americans out of work in 1921 is during just such periods of business expansion as the country now experiences, according to the report of the committee on Unemployment and Business Cycles appointed by Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, in his capacity as Chairman of the President's Conference on Unemployment.

After four months of exhaustive study, the committee, headed by Owen D. Young, president of the General Electric Company, has reported to Secretary Hoover that unless the individual business man informs himself constantly as to the true state of supply and demand in his particular commodity line he inevitably will be led to over-buying again at high prices, and that means a dangerous and costly slump, draining the dollars earned in "good times."

General measures recommended to aid the business man in safeguarding himself from inflation include control of credit expansion by banks and the Federal Reserve system, control of private construction during peaks of building, avoidance of competition with private business during boom times by control of governmental construction, and perhaps the institution of unemployment reserve funds.

The committee's report asks for comment by business men on the findings it has made public. It urges enlargement of such current fact-giving organs as the Survey of Current Business, issued by the Department of Commerce, and it pleads for full co-operation from the business public in the matter of furnishing governmental authorities with full and up-to-date figures on commodity stocks.

Besides the Chairman, the investigators included Joseph H. Deffrees, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce; Mary Van Kleeck, of the Russell Sage Foundation; Matthew Woll, vice-president of the American Federation of Labor; Clarence M. Wooley, president of the American Radiator Company, and Edward Eyre Hunt, secretary of the President's Conference on Unemployment. Economic experts say that the report points the way to a safer future for the pocketbook of every citizen of the United States.

values have never been so low as today in the history of the state.

A definite plan is our first essential. Second we must have a park commission elected by the people, people with high ideals and who are all working for the same principle.

There are two ways of getting a park. First by a gift from a citizen. Second by having a park commission levy taxes to buy land for parks. But a park commission, duly elected, may buy (by levying taxes) and direct parks under the law, for the law does not give the city commission power to levy taxes on parks or direct them.

The joy of the doing is the greatest joy of all after all.

cult, because of the 780 gallons of gasoline, 32 gallons of oil and 25 gallons of water they carried, a weight of more than 5,000 pounds.

The officers' feat established a new non-stop record for all types of airplanes. Captain John Alcock and Lieutenant Arthur Brown, British aviators, crossed the Atlantic ocean in June, 1919, flying 1,900 miles from New Foundland to Ireland.

The NC-2 of the United States navy in May, 1919, made a flight of 1,219 miles crossing the Atlantic from New Foundland to the Azores. In July, 1919, the British dirigible R-34 established a non-stop flight record for all aircraft when it flew 3,200 miles, crossing the Atlantic from east to west and return.

English firm of bacon-curers paid $50,000 for the recipe to cure hams by the Brandenburg method.

In Iceland men kiss when they meet, but a man rarely kisses a woman.

First steamship to cross the Atlantic was the Britannia, July 4, 1840.

Standing Back of Your Mousetraps

A shoe manufacturer whose store in New York City is in a rather out-of-the-way locality recently called the attention of the reading public to the familiar lines:

"If a man can write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mousetrap than his neighbor, though he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."

For many years people have beaten a path to this shoe manufacturer's door. He has proved the truth of this famous aphorism.

And where did he publish this quotation which he applies with such pride to his business?

Why, in an advertisement, to be sure—for this manufacturer is a consistent and regular advertiser, and when he has anything to say, he says it through his advertising. It may fairly be assumed that he would not look for a thriving business in the best of mousetraps, or shoes, if people were not told about them as people except to be told — through advertising.

Of course, people do find out which are the best mousetraps, the best shoes, the best tires, the best breakfast foods, and buy them in preference to others.

And people today are pretty well aware that when a manufacturer puts Advertising back of the thing he makes, he is telling the world that the path to his door is a broad highway.

POLICE HUNT FOR TRACE OF MRS. LINCOLN

Police, in Fifth Day on Mystery, Admit They Have no Definite Clues

Aurora, Ill., May 4.—Authorities now in the fifth day of investigation of the disappearance of Warren Lincoln today extended their search for Mrs. Lena Shoup Lincoln, his estranged wife, and Byron Shoup, his brother, by sending descriptions of the two to surrounding states. A request of the county board of supervisers to offer $1,000 reward for the arrest and apprehension of the slayer or slayers of Lincoln is also under consideration. Checking up on their clues the authorities today admitted they had no positive evidence that a crime had been committed and lack of such evidence precludes the possibility of an arrest on a criminal charge.

For Real Service Buy Red Crown

The High-Grade Gasoline

Gasoline Service is expressed in terms of mileage. When you buy 10 gallons of gasoline, in reality you are buying 150 miles of service, if you get 15 miles to the gallon.

Gasoline becomes a propelling force only when you cause it to vaporize and mix it with air.

The service which you receive is in exact ratio to the manner in which the gasoline vaporizes.
